

Microsoft Product List

Product Release History

Assembled by Paul DeGroot, Pica Communications

This file is an ongoing record of changes to Microsoft's Product List.

Since about 2004 the Product List has recorded changes to the list of products, marking additions and deletions. Prior to that the changes were made, but not documented. While this list is incomplete, particularly for changes before 2005, it can be a useful document for determining when a product was released.

Beginning in July 2015, the Product List was incorporated into Product Terms. Some data has also been included from the Online Services Terms.

While the information has been extracted from Microsoft Lists, it is not an official document and we make no claims about its veracity. Note that the original Product List's "List of Changes" contains some errors itself, such as products that are added twice, removed twice, or never added or removed. Those errors have not been corrected in this document in most cases, given the difficulty of tracking down this information.

You should ensure that your own records are complete and confirm them with Microsoft in the event of any differences you find between this list and others.

Microsoft has made a strategic decision to incorporate the core features of Business Network within other Microsoft Business Solutions software and discontinue Business Network as a stand alone application. We will continue to enable efficient and effective Business Network-like scenarios using built in support for Web Services in Microsoft Business Solutions business management applications and existing XML support in Microsoft Office (for spokes). This approach will allow for more flexibility and richness in the type of networks and collaboration that customers engage in.
